SPARKS FROM THE ELECTRIC WIRE

The Canadian Pacific railroad will electrify a portion of its line. Electrically refined steel is extensively used for making automobiles.

Members of the House of Representatives at Washington may vote by electricity.

The polo field at Long Branch, N. J., is now illuminated at night with large incandescent lamps.

Water sterilization by ultra-violet rays has been adopted for European armies when in field service.

Electric fans are extensively used in this room being almost a necessity during the hot summer months.

All department stores use a great deal of electricity not only for lighting but for power purposes, such as refrigeration, driving elevators and ventilators.

Electricity is being used more and more in building and construction operations. Electric motors drive hoists, winches, steam shovels, dredges, elevators and many other tools.

The bridge across the Willamette river at Portland, Oregon, is decorated with more than seven thousand electric lights, making it one of the most artistic structures in the world.

Rupert, Idaho, has a large model school house which is entirely heated with electricity. The school is also provided with electric ranges and cooking devices in the domestic science department.

Direct wireless communication between this country and Asia is now accomplished. The United States station at Nome, Alaska, is in communication with the Russians at Anadyr, Siberia, which is 500 miles from Nome.

The electrically propelled naval collier Jupiter was recently completed. This is the first large ship to be driven by electric power. The electrical equipment for the new collier was designed and built by the General Electric Company.

Lean Lookout For Patrons.

On August 12th, Dayton took a step, well tested in Germany, but not existing heretofore in any American city larger than Eumter, S. C., where the plan is in successful operation.

It is adopted by a large majority of the City manager plan of government, by which the city, like any corporation, hunts up the best man it can get anywhere and hires him as General Manager. Dayton puts all the powers of the city in one small board, and this board hires the general manager, who controls all the city departments except schools and courts, and is paid what he is thought to be worth, and kept in office as long as he is satisfactory. A lean outlook for patrons like this! A system which would not wish a "tiger" or any other predatory animal. The American people will adopt it as they become weary of being led, demoralized, and rendered ridiculous by a system devised for the exclusive use of leeches.—Harper's Week.

Limitations of War Spirit.

FOREST NOTES

Switzerland has four cooperative associations for the growing and marketing of forest products.

The U. S. forest service is using gasoline railway sleds for fire protection purposes. They follow up trains on steep grades where sparks thrown out by forced draft are likely to start fires.

Forest officers have found that high power telescopes are not always satisfactory in fire-lookout work. In some localities heat vibrations in the atmosphere are so magnified by the glass that clearer vision can be had with the unaided eye.

At the national conservation congress to be held in Washington, November 18-20, the subject of forestry will be handled by a main committee with sub-committees which will report on federal and state forest policies, forest taxation, fires, lumbering, planning, utilization, forest schools and scientific forest investigation.

Elk have been found in the Uinta national forest, Utah, for the first time in many years. Since they are not from shipments from the Jackson Hole country to neighboring forests, the state and federal officials are gratified at this apparent increase in big game, as the result of protection.

It has been discovered that the waste from dogwood shuttle-blocks can profitably be made into handles for steel knives and forks.

Contrary to popular belief, forest fires seldom travel more than 2 or 3 miles an hour. Even in extreme cases it is questionable whether they burn at a rate of more than 6 to 10 miles an hour.

Uncle Sam's forest ranger requires that permanent camps sit within 11 feet of the shore. In sanitary conditions, the ubiquitous tin can must be buried, and waste paper burned when a camp is left.

The forests of Corsica, the little island upon which Napoleon was born, are managed by the French government. They produce lumber, firewood, and turpentine, and all parts of the tree are far more closely utilized than in America.

PERSONAL

John Harvey and William McKay of New London were visitors in Norwich Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Ransom leave today for a visit of several weeks in Vermont and Maine.

Mrs. Henry Gallup of Orem was a recent guest of her daughter, Mrs. John B. Williams, of Mystic.

Mrs. Nona Potter of Trading Cove is spending a week with her son, Wallace Potter, of Hill Top, Uncasville.

Robert E. Cross is at his home in this city for a few days previous to returning to his studies at Trinity college.

Misses Abbie Kelly, Annie Embach, May Walsh and Alice Tilley of Norwich were recent visitors in New London.

MADE RECORD SALE FOR O'BRIEN OF BOSTON.

John A. Moran Disposed of $497 Worth to One Customer.

One of the most surprising incidents of the "O'Brien of Boston" sale, which has been and is going on at the store of John A. Moran, was the sale of a bill of goods to one man in a sum within $3 of an even $500, which probably makes a record for any similar sale conducted in this city.

The sale was made by Mr. Moran, too, and in an unexpected way, as he is not in any way connected with the disposal of the goods nor is he engaged during the sale as a salesman.

The O'Brien sale has been unusually successful, according to what those who are interested in it say, and from the time it opened there has been a constant stream of buyers for the goods. Buyers of all classes have filled the store and been purchasers, and Mr. O'Brien says he has yet to find a dissatisfied one.

OBITUARY.

Joseph F. Dawley.

Word was received here Monday of the death of Joseph F. Dawley, which occurred suddenly in Mansfield, Conn., Monday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Dawley was 85 years of age. He is survived by three sons, Herbert S., Arthur J. and William H. Dawley, all of this city, by a widow, seven grandchildren. The remains will be taken to Westford, Conn., for burial.

Found Asleep in Barn.

Charles Bryant, the negro patient, who was brought back to the Norwich state hospital on Saturday by Constable Michael Nolan, was found by the constable in a barn in Fairfield. The man was asleep. He was handcuffed to a post and was in a state of unconsciousness when he was found.

Will Ask for $1500 Road Money.

The selectmen will insert in the call for the town meeting the item calling for a vote asking for an appropriation from the state of a proportion of the money for state aid for roads. The share that Norwich will ask for will be $20,000, which if secured will mean $10,000 for each of two years.

Policeman Irish Recovering.

Policeman John Irish on Monday made his second visit to police headquarters since he was hurt a week ago Sunday when he was hit by an automobile at Shannon corner. His friends are glad to see him getting around.

DOES THE SHOE PINCH?

Used to say — If the shoe pinches, wear it.

Now wise people say — read the advertising in live newspapers like The Bulletin and see where you can get a better shoe.

There's individuality about shoes. What's comfort to one man is torture to another.

Perhaps the shoes you have been seeking are described in today's advertising in this newspaper.

If not today—they will be tomorrow.

No sense in making your feet unhappy when some merchant in this town has just the pair of shoes you are looking for.

Read up on shoe lore — and patronize the merchant who appeals to your needs.

REPUBLICANS HOLD CAUCUS

No Contests in Filling Ticket for Town Election—Lewis R. Church and Charles P. Bushnell for Selectmen—Robert McNeely and B. P. Bishop New Names for School Board—Request for Prayer at Opening of Caucus Voted Down

In a caucus in which manifest good feeling and harmony prevailed among the more than 175 men present, Monday evening in the town hall, the republicans nominated their ticket for the town election. The following ticket was nominated:

For Selectmen—Lewis R. Church and Charles P. Bushnell.

For Assessors—Frank H. Woodworth and James W. Blackburn.

For Agents of the Town Deposit Fund—Costello Lippitt, Col. Charles W. Gale and Frank L. Woodard.

For Collector of Taxes—Thomas A. Robinson.

Town Clerk—Charles S. Holbrook.

For Town Treasurer—Charles S. Holbrook.

For Registrars of Voters—Tyler D. Guy.

For Town School Board—B. P. Bishop, Robert McNeely.

For Constables—David R. Kinney, John Reeves, Gustave E. Lambert and George W. Rouse.

For Auditor—Daniel F. McNeil.

A motion made by Ambrose Wilson that prayer be offered before the caucus proceeded to business was one of the unusual events of the evening.

Edwin L. Burnap, chairman of the town committee, rapped for order at a few minutes after 8 o'clock and Frank H. Smith nominated John H. Barnes for chairman.

Brown nominated A. A. Browning, but Mr. Barnes withdrew his name, saying that he expected this was to be a successful caucus and in the interest of harmony he would withdraw his name.

Mr. Browning was selected and took the chair, thanking the caucus for the election.

George N. Beardow nominated John McKinley for clerk and he was elected and took the place at the desk, reading the request of Chairman Browning.

Before that Ambrose Wilson arose in his place and with a reference to the past, he had played a part in the success of this country and the fact that George Washington was a man who prayed, he moved that the chairman appoint some divine who might be present to offer prayer at the opening of the caucus.

The motion was seconded and put to vote and declared carried by Chairman Browning. The "yes" and "noes" seemed almost equal in volume and many did not vote at all. Then some one doubted the vote and Walter H. Spaulding from his place at the rear of the hall said that many back there did not know what the vote was about. The chairman explained and then he put the question again, this time there seemed to be no record.

Before calling for nomination, Chairman Browning spoke briefly, saying that the first thing in the way of success was to make good nominations and he congratulated the caucus for this seemed to be assured when he considered the numbers present, the faces he saw before him and the unanimity of feeling that was apparent.

Lewis R. Church for Selectman.

Albert S. Bailey in making the first nomination, said he was proud to speak in a republican caucus for no other party had done so much for the United States. He proposed to nominate a man who had done his duty in the many offices he had held, had been successful in his own business affairs and he could be elected if the republicans would work together as they used to do and if elected the party would be proud of the record he would make. He named Lewis R. Church for first selectman and the nomination drew applause. The election followed and the caucus voted for him in all the other names on the ticket.

George N. Beardow nominated Charles P. Bushnell for second selectman.

For Assessor.

H. M. Lerou nominated for assessor Frank H. Woodworth, who, he said, was a well known business man, of good judgment and with values and mercantile interests and an admirable man for the position.

Board of Relief.

For the board of relief, Curry Gilmore was nominated by Edward Crooks and James W. Blackburn was nominated by D. Nicholas Lathrop.

Town Clerk—Charles S. Holbrook nominated Costello Lippitt, Col. Charles W. Gale and Frank L. Woodard as agents of the town deposit fund. He brought out a laugh when he said that he seemed hardly worth while to elect them, as they had nothing to do.

This was followed by the nominations on which the two parties for several years have made no contest. James C. Fitzpatrick nominated for collector of taxes the present democratic holder of the office, Thomas A. Robinson.

For Town Clerk and Treasurer.

Judge N. J. Ayling nominated Charles S. Holbrook for town clerk, of whom he said he could give a long list of encomiums but would merely present his name, "and he has something to do," remarked the town clerk.

And something to get also," responded Chairman Browning, who had previously good humoredly acknowledged the town clerk's help in keeping the caucus straight as to the order in which nominations were to be made in the caucus.

Frank A. Smith nominated Charles S. Holbrook for town treasurer.

Registrars of Voters.

George H. Stanton nominated Tyler D. Guy, the present incumbent, for registrar of voters, and he was elected.

On Town School Board.

For member of the town school board John D. Hall named a man well known to all, he said, a man from the Third district, whose name was Robert McNeely, and put his name forward for the term beginning in October, 1914.

Judge Lucius Brown inquired whose name on the board were to expire and was told that it was Principal Henry A. Tirrell this year and Shepard B. Palmer next year. Judge Brown was informed by Chairman Burnap that both these gentlemen would decline a renomination or re-election.

Charles S. Twist said he had seen Mr. Palmer at 10 o'clock Monday morning and Mr. Palmer had definitely declined to be considered for renomination. Mr. Twist quoted Mr. Palmer as approving of the choice of Mr. McNeely.

Judge Brown said he had not understood what name had been presented so that what he should say would be impersonal, but he said he thought one important qualification for anyone on this board was that they should have had children, and he spoke of the highly important position it seemed to him. He was informed by Mr. Twist that Mr. McNeely had raised a family.

The nomination of Mr. McNeely was approved.

Town Clerk Holbrook nominated B. P. Bishop for the term beginning this October, and he was elected.

Four constables were nominated as follows: David R. Kinney by Gustave Lambert, John Reeves by George N. Beardow, Gustave E. Lambert by David H. Kinney and George W. Rouse by Charles S. Holbrook.

The mutual exchange of nominations by Mr. Kinney and Mr. Lambert raised a laugh in the caucus, upon which Chairman Browning facetiously observed: "This is no laughing matter, gentlemen. They may arrest you before their terms are over!"

H. M. Lerou nominated Daniel F. McNeil for auditor and the town committee was empowered to fill any vacancies occurring.

Invited to Republican Club.

At the request of President John D. Hall of the Republican club, the chairman called attention to the meeting of the club tonight at the Buckingham Memorial and President Hall extended an urgent invitation to all republicans to attend the meeting and for those who had not joined the club to become members.

The caucus adjourned after a session of 40 minutes.

LIGHT SHOWED TRACK CLEAR FOR BOAT TRAIN

Switch Lantern Burned Green as Boat Train Approached Saturday Night.

In the wreck of the Central Vermont boat train at the Falls Saturday night, according to what Engineer Vassar said to those at the wreck immediately after it had happened, he saw the switch signal burning green, indicating a clear track for him, as he swung around the curve at that point. He had no steam on as his practice was in making the run at this point, and as he reached the switch stand he felt his engine mount the point of the switch. He at once threw on the emergency brakes, sending out a shower of sparks from the wheels. At the speed he was making, they would have been enough to have stopped his train in the length of the siding, he said, if the engine had been on the tracks.

When he returned to look at the switch stand after he had climbed out of the car window, with the fireman and several other men, they found the light out, probably having been jarred out by the train jumping at this point. The switch was wide open, his theory being that it was jarred open by the train, and the padlock which was supposed to secure it found to be useless, as it could easily be opened by the fireman, the fingers, the engine hanging by its chain and was not locking the switch.

AT DAVIS THEATRE.

Homan Musical Stock Company.

Judging from the size of the house and its evident enjoyment and enthusiasm on Monday, the Davis theatre has hit the popular fancy in presenting the Homan Musical Stock company for this week in connection with the programme of photoplays.

Headed by Martin Tooley as comedian and with Miss Helen Farrington in the leads, the company filled its part to the complete satisfaction of all who attended, and in both the sketch and the individual numbers showed that it was a well balanced combination of clever people who all come in for applause.

The photoplays are as usual up to the satisfactory Davis standard.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Vaudeville and Motion Pictures.

The new numbers offered in the programme schedules for the first three days of the week at the Auditorium pleased good sized audiences on Monday. One of the vaudeville teams in Whirlwind DeForest, failed to put in an appearance Monday, having gone to Newport by mistake. Another act has been secured and will be on hand for today's shows. Budd and Clare, the English comedians, have a bright, snappy act, filled with lively humor and make a good impression. The feature picture is the three reel production of Robinson Crusoe. An extra film was shown at Monday's shows to take the place of the missing vaudeville number.

FUNERAL.

Mrs. Ezra W. Yerrington.

The funeral of Mary Huntington, widow of Ezra W. Yerrington, was held from the home of her son, Charles A. Yerrington on Laurel Hill avenue at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. Relatives and friends were present and there were many handsome floral forms. The service was conducted by Rev. H. J. Wyckoff, pastor of the Second Congregational church. The bearers were Lewis R. Church, H. L. Yerrington, George D. Fillmore and C. D. Gallup. The body was placed in the family tomb in the Yantic cemetery where there was a committal service conducted by Rev. Mr. Wyckoff. Henry Allen & Son were in charge of the arrangements.

James D. Lynch Develops His Newport Property.

A new summer colony will be a realization in Easton's Point, a short distance from the Newport beach, on the lands owned by James D. Lynch of New York, who has held the property for thirty years or more. The land lies well above the sea, near St. George's school, the Clam Lake club and the residences of prominent cottagers. Mr. Lynch, who just has returned to his summer residence at the Pequot, has had roads macadamized and complete sewerage established. There are 54 lots, about 10 feet in width, varying from 100 to 200 feet in depth. The building of cottages probably will be begun in the spring. The property has a frontage of 1,100 feet on the sea, and about the same on the east side of Tuckerman avenue. A feature of the property is that each lot owner must have his garage standing to the rear of all the property and on the same building line.

Will Confer With Tax Commissioner Corbin.
